The "Longworth" Overcoat.

The Summary of Its Merits.

A new style.
An exclusive style.
The close fitting collar.
The perfect shoulder.
An unusual value.

As it is shown in the illustration, so you see it here, the most graceful coat you can imagine, and one that is suitable for every man, whether he is tall or short.

The close-fitting collar is a feature that is thoroughly appreciated, for it makes it impossible for the collar of the under coat to show above that of the overcoat.

We've mastered the art of producing fine clothing, and offer the "Longworth" as an example of our ability.

We are offering an excellent line of these Overcoats as low as $15.00

THE WORLD OF SOCIETY

FEMININE SPLENDOR IN THE ### FEATURE OF HORSE SHOW.

Socialities Here for the Debutantes

—Timely Personal

Notes.

Miss Morison at the horse show last night wore what is described as the most elaborate toilet yet seen there. It was of cream colored gauze, the skirt trimmed with lengthwise bands of golden paillettes, the corsage heavily embellished with gold paillettes in leaf design. She wore also a high collar of meshed gold inlaid with rubies, diamonds and sapphires, and, in addition there was a string of pearls about a long chain of diamonds fastened with a large diamond brooch. Her hat was of yellow tulle and feathers.

Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney wore sapphire blue chiffon embroidered in silver. Rust-colored roses adorned a big hat of sapphire tulle. Pearls and diamonds and a huge sapphire pendant were the jewels worn.

The Assistant Secretary of War and Mrs. Oliver entertained at dinner last night for Mrs. Victor Clement and Capt. Sydney A. Cloman, and in the party to meet them were Col. and Mrs. Brownell, Dr. and Mrs. Pettus, Miss Hagner, Miss Oliver, Miss Marion Oliver, Capt. Hutchison, Capt. Gilmore and Capt. Lee.

Gen. and Mrs. Sternberg had as dinner guests last night Gen. and Mrs. Anson Mills, Mr. and Mrs. George Mayne, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Stevens.

Mrs. Charlotte MacGreal is the widow of Wilburne P. MacGreal of Chicago. Mrs. MacGreal is a descendant of old Maryland and Virginia families. On her grandfather's side is Gen. Smallwood of Maryland of revolutionary fame. And on her grandmother's side is the illustrious Madison family of which James Madison was fourth President of the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph A. King of Corcoran street have located in the Alabama for the winter.

Mrs. Thomas H. Barry and Miss Barry will be at home, 2110 O street, on Tuesdays in December and January.

Mrs. Haycock will not occupy her residence on 19th street, being a guest for the winter of Mr. and Mrs. Dundas in West Philadelphia.

Miss Sadie Frank Lloyd and Mr. Irving Lloyd, parents of the bride, Miss Alice Lloyd, Miss Hines, sister of the groom; Miss Embrey, Miss Sisson, Misses Grimes, Adams, and Mrs. Frank Hiest, Mr. and Mrs. Gove and Misses Gove, Mr. and Mrs. Burk, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Love, Miss Katharine Love and Mr. Scott Lloyd.

A Thanksgiving offering was the reason for a gathering last night by the Southern Relief Society at Confederate Veterans Hall and which proved a pleasant and a successful occasion. Mrs. George S. Covington, chairman of the arrangements, was assisted by Mrs. John T. Callaghan, Mrs. William Bove, Mrs. Wrenn and Mrs. Greed, members of the executive and relief committees. All of the officers of the society were present save Mrs. Rosalie Bock, chairman of the executive committee, who is in mourning.

Miss Carolyn Perkins of Detroit, Mich., has returned to Washington to spend the winter, and is at present a guest of Miss Florence Olinger, 903 New Jersey avenue northwest.

Mrs. Mary E. McConney has returned to the Graham Hotel for the winter.

Miss Etta Portner and the Messrs. Portner will leave for the Arctic Thursday to spend the winter abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Greeley Abbot have returned from southern California. Mr. Abbot has been making a series of observations for the past six months at the Carnegie solar observatory on Mount Wilson.

Capt. and Mrs. M. Barringer of 1433 Q street have returned from their trip to Ohio.

Miss Marie R. Oldham, former resident of Capitol Hill, is now attending school at Salem College, Winston, N. C.

Mrs. Greer Baughman and little daughter, Wilhelmine Reeve Baughman, of Richmond, Va., are visiting Col. and Mrs. Felix A. Reeve at 1625 14th street.

Mrs. James E. Rose, assisted by her daughter, Gertrude, entertained at her home Monday night. The rooms were artistically decorated in huge bouquets of red and white chrysanthemums. Vocal selections were rendered by the Misses Josephine A. Stein, Nellie A. Smith, Genevieve A. Rose, Messrs. Leon Rose and C. P. Rhodes, Adams, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. M. C. Booth, Ruth Goss, Bernadette Scofield, Messrs. George Strong, James E. Rose, Will Fleischman, Raymond Hitchcock, Frank Adams, Mrs. McGill, Mrs. M. C. Booth, Mrs. Goss, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rhodes.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Morris, Riverdale, Md., when their daughter, Minnie Johnson, and Mr. Alfred Truman Browning were joined in holy wedlock by Rev. Dr. C. I. S. Mayor of Pinckney Memorial Church, Hyattsville. The parlor was tastefully decorated with palms, chrysanthemums and evergreen. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Mayo, who during the ceremony rendered "O Promise Me" and "The Wedding Song." The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. Robert S. Morris, wore a handsome gown of cream satin and carried a large bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served to the immediate families of the contracting parties and a few personal friends. Mrs. McGill, Mrs. M. C. Booth, Mrs. Goss, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Rose and Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Rhodes.

Miss Polly Stewart of Hamilton, Canada, was entertained at a party given in her honor by Mr. H. B. Homer at his home, 1307 13th street northwest, Wednesday night. After selections on the piano by Miss Stewart and Miss Meyer, followed by several violin numbers by Mr. Palmer, the party resorted to Mr. Homer's Algonquin den, where a chafing dish supper was served, presided over by Miss Lois P. Meyer. Miss Stewart is paying a few weeks' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Meyer, 600 P street northwest, where she will be pleased to see her Washington friends. There were also present, Miss Elizabeth Howard Barbour, Miss Margaret Anna Kneese, Mr. Richard Barber and Mr. Frank Orbell.

Mr. B. H. Stinemetz and family have moved to the Kenesaw, 10th and Irving streets.

Col. George Barnett was host yesterday at a small tea at his quarters in the navy yard in compliment to Miss Elsie McLean, daughter of Commander and Mrs. McLean, and Miss Katharine Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hennen Jennings, and both debutantes of the present season. Mrs. McLean and Mrs. Hayer did the honors for Colonel Barnett.

Law and Equity.
To the Editor of The Star:
John Selden, who was born in the sixteenth and died in the seventeenth century, was one of the foremost jurists and writers of his period, a man of profound learning, of acute perception and of caustic and convincing literary style. Selden's name has never faded from the rolls of Englishmen who accomplish things for the advancement of their country. But with all their accomplishments and achievements his biographers have failed to note that in him dwelt the spirit of prophecy. That he was a prophet none can doubt who, living with this immediate region at this pulsing present, will read the following lines from his "Table Talk" on the subject of "Equity":

"Equity is a roughish thing. For Law we have a measure, know what to trust to; Equity is according to the conscience of him that is Chancellor, and as that is bigger or narrower, so is Equity. 'Tis all one as if they should make the standard of the measure we call a foot a Chancellor's foot; what an uncertain measure would this be! One Chancellor has a long foot, another a short foot, a third an indifferent foot. 'Tis all the same thing in the Chancellor's conscience."

The works of John Selden are not to be found on the shelves of the public school library in Washington.

Regular Army and Navy Union.
At a meeting of Gen. John M. Schofield Garrison, No. 1, Regular Army and Navy Union, held in Pythian Temple Monday evening, five new members were mustered in. Immediately after the meeting closed refreshments were served.

Gen. William F. Barry Garrison, No. 30, Regular Army and Navy Union, held his regular meeting at 719 6th street northwest Wednesday, 21st. Money was appropriated for the relief of Henry Stork, a member of the union and one of the flood sufferers in Alabama.

M. J. Heiman, division commander on the Pacific coast reports the organization of two new garrisons, Assistant Inspector General Jones reports the organization of a new garrison in Alaska.

Schoolard Garrison, No. 1, and Barry Garrison, No. 30, will nominate officers for 1907 at the next meeting. Officers elected will be published in the National Army and Navy Review, January 14, 1907. Officers of Kathryn W. Barry Auxiliary, No. 1, will also be installed at that time.

Jamestown to Yorktown.
Prof. W. S. Peabody, secretary of the Capital Camera Club, gave an illustrated lecture on the subject "From Jamestown to Yorktown" before a large audience at the meeting of the Waugh Brotherhood at the Waugh M. E. Church, 3d and A streets northeast, Wednesday evening. The trip over which Prof. Peabody took his auditors was down the Potomac from this city and the Chesapeake and the James river and the lecture was accompanied by pictures of the historical points of interest.

Miss Sallie Nicholson rendered a vocal solo, which was applauded, and Miss Clara McCarthy entertained the audience with a piano solo.

Labor Board in Session.
The labor board of the Washington navy yard was in session today and the statement was made that the meetings will be continued for several days. The board is composed of Capt. McFate, chairman; Commander Frank E. Healy and Commander Horace W. Jones, retired.

One of the principal matters before the body is said to be that of the wage scale of the employees of the yard. A member of the board stated to a Star reporter that there would be no compromise given any committee of Columbia Lodge of Machinists, as such, but that the men would be given hearings as workmen in the navy yard only, their claims in accordance with the rules and regulations of the department.

Among the Rechabites.
The Rechabites of East Washington announce that they have entered actively upon their winter campaign against intemperance, and it is said, a number of open meetings will soon be held at Rechabite hall, 2003 street southeast. At a meeting of Golden Rule Tent, No. 1064, I. O. E., last evening, the initiatory degree was conferred on Miss Julia E. Eller and Miss Mary L. Eller was received by card. A social hour was spent in playing games. Arrangements for a New Year watch-night service have been completed.

Those present were: Mr. Jas. C. Eller, Dr. Walter A. Barnes, Chas. Williams, Messrs. McMahon, Cook, J. J. Murray, Donohue, Col. Jas. C. Lee, Mrs. A. V. Lee, Mrs. A. M. McMahon, Mrs. Cora Kabata, Mrs. M. E. Sallie, Mrs. L. V. Dickey, Mrs. H. E. Love, Mrs. E. S. Hisey, Miss Lillian Lloyd, Mrs. Mamie Steves, Miss Flora Steves, Miss Mary L. Eller, Miss Julia Eller, Mrs. P. Weaver, Miss Bettie C. Butler, Miss Lelia Soules and others.

Correspondents Well Cared For.
The press gallery of the House of Representatives looks just now more like a writing room in a bang-up hotel than the sure-enough workshop it is. During the summer recess, Mr. McLean, in the main room was replaced by a special set of golden oak upholstered in dark green leather, with paper racks to match. The old chandeliers have been replaced by artistic electric chandeliers of modern design, and settees in the window recesses and a big dayenport along the wall nearest the chamber help to make things comfortable.

BORN.
LARNER, On Thursday, November 22, 1906, to Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lerner, a daughter, LUCY PARKER.

DIED.
BIRCH, On November 22, 1906, at 9:30 a.m., JAMES B. BIRCH, beloved husband of Martha J. Birch, in his seventy-second year. Funeral from his late residence, 515 10th street southwest, Sunday, November 25, at 2 o'clock p.m. Interment at Congressional cemetery. (Philadelphia papers please copy.)
